what's on

The ultimate Saturday treat at Scone Grammar

It's on again and this year promises to be as much fun and enjoyment as previous years!

Scone Grammar School Fete and Markets on Saturday 6th May with the markets in operation from 9am – 3pm and the fete in full swing from 12pm – 4pm (directly after the Scone Horse Festival parade) offers an enormous array of things to see, do and taste!

More than 50 stores add to the atmosphere selling absolutely everything to be found at a fete, from candles to clothing and not to forget loads of delicious food. Gourmet pies, nachos, hamburgers, lamb salads and desserts galore plus gourmet produce and coffee from the school's Grammar Grind Café - all set up on the school grounds on Kingdon Street. There will also be lots of old-fashioned games for the young and old to try their hand at plus amusement rides, a photo booth (with props) and an animal corner. A fantastic raffle boasting a trip to Taronga Zoo and accommodation at the Novotel, Darling Harbour is up for grabs so be sure to get a ticket in that one.

Connect with the community's local emergency services – ambulance, police and fire brigade teams who will all be in attendance at their relevant display stands.

Plan to stay for a while and absorb everything on offer which is put together by an enthusiastic school community of fete builders who have it down to a fine art.

The dogs are out at Nundle

Dogs and their owners across the region are in training for one of the funniest and hotly contested events of the year, The Great Nundle Dog Race on Sunday May 7.

The annual race raises about $10,000 each year for the Nundle Public School Parents and Citizens Association to subsidise excursions for students, purchase educational equipment and provide prizes for presentation night.

The full-day program of sprint races for dogs and handlers, supported by Tamworth Regional Council through Destination Tamworth, attracts families and their dogs from the local region as well as the Hunter, Sydney and North Coast.

The first race is at 10.30am and there are 20 races for all types of dogs, such as the House Dog Races, Mongrel Invitation Stakes and Juvenile Canine Mini Stakes. There are great prizes to be won.

If your dog can jump onto the back of a ute there is the Doggy High Jump, or if he loves to chase, then you might try him in Stumpy's Circular Dog Derby.

The main race is The Great Nundle Dog Race, which is open to bona fide working dogs only. District graziers and station hands pit their pride and joy working dogs against each other to keep the tradition alive of finding the fastest dog.

Entry is by gold coin donation. A barbecue lunch and morning and afternoon teas are available from the ground. Water is available for your dog. The Great Nundle Dog Race is an alcohol-free event.

If you would like to make a donation to the Nundle Public School P&C please contact the school on 6769 3253. For information see nundle.com.au or call Nundle Visitor Information Outlet on 6769 3026.

Children connect with local indigenous culture

Children at Singleton Council's Out of School Hours Care got a unique insight into Singleton's local indigenous heritage at an event organised by the Singleton Community Garden and Singleton Council this month.

Made possible through funding from Glencore, the 'Singleton's Indigenous Heritage - A Youth Experience' project aimed to connect local children with the indigenous community by discussing and learning about indigenous culture directly from elders. The event included a visit to Baime Cave guided by local elder Warren Taggart, as well as a tour of the bush tucker garden with Kevin Lomax.

It's live and it's local

The best of the Upper Hunter's food and musical talent will be in one place on Saturday April 29 when Scone's Paddock to Pantry hosts Live and Local. The event will bring together local growers, suppliers and buskers for a laid back morning of enjoyment.

Paddock to Pantry proprietors Steve and Carey Guihot told Up Country Entertainer they see it as a natural progression to what they try and do in the shop every day.

"There aren't always opportunities for people with excess amounts of their home-grown items to find a grateful home elsewhere. This could be a start for that," Steve said.

Steve and Carey are eagerly waiting to see what the response to the event is like and hope it could become a regular event.

"As far as it being ongoing, we will try and do something on a semi-regular basis, but it will depend on the response we receive from suppliers and customers.

"The unique nature of this event is that we are endeavouring to localise the area from which the product is drawn. This makes it very local and seasonal - no pineapples at this market sorry.

We have some really wonderful producers of food here already and the area is ripe for growing this 'cottage' industry even further," Steve finished.

Hunter Belle Cheese, Horner's Honey, Papanui Eggs and Hunter Valley Pasta are just a few of the suppliers who will be at the first ever Live and Local. If the quality of their food is anything to go by, the buskers will also be fantastic.

Live and Local will take place at Paddock to Pantry on Kelly Street, Scone between 9 and 11am on Saturday 29 April. For further information phone 6545 9851 during business hours.

LIVE AND LOCAL AT PADDOCK TO PANTRY: Live, local music and local produce all on offer at the back of the shop this Saturday 29 April.
