Heavy horses rejoice 21 years

St Heliers Heavy Horse Field Days is celebrating its 21st birthday this year.

The Field Days began in 1996 and since then has gone on to become an iconic family event for people with an interest in breeds like Clydesdales, Shires, Percherons and Draught horses and other heavy horse breeds. The event is held at the St Heliers Exhibition Grounds, St Heliers Road, just north of Muswellbrook on May 20 and 21. The competition is open to all heavy horse breeds and runs for two days. Events include lead, ridden, slide and long-rein, ploughing and carriage events as well as a lot of fun with novelty events for everyone.

More than 55 heavy horses and well over 2,200 spectators attended last year's event. There will be stall holders selling arts and craft, antiques, heavy horse harness and memorabilia with plenty of food outlets to keep you satisfied over the weekend.

With a community bonfire Saturday night plus on-ground camping sites (unpowered) available for the traveller, you can now make a weekend of it.

The Roof of the World

The mysterious land of Tibet will be explored at the next Scone ADFAS meeting on Tuesday May 16.

Miss Zara Fleming will present her talk entitled Tibet - The Roof of the World, an introduction to this extraordinary land lying in the heart of Central Asia surrounded by some of the highest mountains in the world.

She will explore the art and culture of Tibet from the 6th Century to the present day.

Zara is an art consultant and researcher with a specialist knowledge of Buddhist art.

She has curated many exhibitions on Tibet.

Log on to www.adfas.org.au for more information.

Geriatric check-up

Our bodies are a lot like cars, purring along when we are young, but needing a bit of extra care as we age. Our pets are no different and the trick to good quality of life into old age is early detection and treatment.

Animals cannot talk to us, so it's often difficult to know if they are feeling well or not. Often pet owners just attribute "slowing down" to "ageing", not realising that, more often than not, there is an underlying physical or medical problem that's affecting their pet.

Signs can be so subtle and insidious that we can fail to notice these small changes until they are advanced.

Conditions such as arthritis, diabetes, thyroid and adrenal problems, kidney and liver disease, heart disease, cancers and dementia are common in our older pets.

Vets often see animals that have had one or more of these medical problems for some time, which makes treatment so much less effective than if the animals were treated early on in the disease process. For this reason, Pet Medical developed a special 'Seniors Package'.

The aim? Early detection allowing for more effective treatment of these conditions. Pet Medical is now offering a seniors screening package which will detect these treatable issues early on.

Call Pet Medical on 6541 1555 to find out more about our seniors program. Pet Medical - helping you to love your special friend for longer.

Joint project between two shire councils breaks ground

Image: At the start of work on the Merriwa to Willow Tree road upgrade, Upper Hunter MP Michael Johnsen, Upper Hunter Mayor Wayne Bedgood, be Deputy Prime Minister and Member for New England Barnaby Joyce and Liverpool Plains Deputy Mayor Doug Hawkins.

Work has begun to upgrade the Merriwa to Willow Tree Road (MR358), with the State Government recently committing extra funds for the project as work was underway on the Liverpool Plains section of the road last week.

More than $5.57 million in funding has been added to the project from the NSW Government's 'Fixing Country Roads' program, adding to the $800,000 NSW Government's funding from the Regional Roads REPAIR Program.

In 2016 the federal government made $5.5 million available through the Federal Government's Heavy Vehicle Productivity Funding for the road upgrade.

The upgrade will make for a cheaper, faster and safer trip for not only industry operators and farmers, but also for tourists, school buses, ambulances, families and individuals. The linking of Golden Highway and the New England Highway will save around 44km each way and provide enormous benefits to the region.

The Willow Tree to Merriwa road upgrade is due to be completed, including full sealing in 2019, at a cost of over $12 million. The first stage of 1.4 kilometres was estimated to cost $600,000 and be completed by the end of June, weather permitting.

$2million on offer at Scone Cup Carnival

The prizemoney for the richest country racing carnival in Australia, the 'Darley Scone Cup Carnival' has increased by $90,000 making it a legitimate $2million dollar two-day carnival.

The carnival kicks off on Friday May 12, with the Darley Scone Cup Race Day, followed with further riches of the Inglis Guineas/Emirates Park Dark Jewel Race Day on Saturday the 13th May 2017. On the back of a tremendous sales season, this Carnival also emphasises the importance of the Hunter Valley to both the breeding and racing industries, at national and international levels.

Early indications are that there will be a large number of nominations, with high-profile horses and trainers again to be prominent amongst accepters. The official world number one jockey, Hugh Bowman will hopefully be back in Scone chasing his hat trick of Golden Whip Awards this year.

Marquee ticket sales have been as strong as ever. The ever popular Emirates Airline Fashions on the Field competition will be held on both days. Thousands of dollars in prizes and a trip for two people flying business class to New Zealand are up for grabs. Buses will again be available to take patrons to and from the racecourse from various locations around the region.

Scone Race Club CEO, Heath Courtney stated, "This carnival is a huge credit to our loyal band of sponsors and dedicated committee for which the club and our stakeholders are very grateful."
