Blue Heeler Film Festival gets ready to showcase

Entries have closed and the stage is set for Muswellbrook's Blue Heeler Film Festival opening night on September 8.

Judges are busy casting their eye over all the festival entries and the crowd will get their chance to judge at the special screening. The official red carpet awards night will take place at Two Rivers Wines, Denman on the evening of September 9.

Check out the Blue Heeler Film Festival Facebook page for more information and keep tuned to Up Country Entertainer.

FOOD for FINES

Do you have a library fine? Members of the Upper Hunter Library Network are encouraged to visit the library during August and take advantage of the fine amnesty.

During August, the Libraries will waive outstanding library fees when you visit one of the branches. When you visit, just mention the amnesty and they will waive any outstanding fines on your account.

In exchange, customers who are able to, will be asked donate a non-perishable canned food item to be given to local homeless support organisations.

If you are not in a position to make a donation that's fine too - just come in an visit and your fines will be waived.

Between Tuesday, 1st August and Thursday, 31st August, you can clear your library account of fees for a fresh start in the new financial year while making a difference within your local community.

Donations and fee waivers can be made during opening hours at each of the seven Upper Hunter Library Network branches including Aberdeen, Cassilis, Denman, Merriwa, Murrumbidgee, Muswellbrook and Scone Libraries.

Light up Quirindi

Quirindi will light up the afternoon when it hosts the Neon Colour Fun Run and Walk on September 16.

Friends of Children with Special Needs is organising the event, family registration is $50 for six family members, other registration prices range from $5 to $20.

For more information check out the Friends of Children with Special Needs Facebook page. Gates at No 1 Oval open at 4.30pm for a 5.30pm start.

Introducing Maz Dixon

Maz Dixon, the Major Prize Winner of the 2017 Waverley Art Prize.

Using the nostalgic language of 70s Sunshine and Gold Coast postcards & souvenirs, Dixon explores the disconnect between a traveller's expectations and the often highly-kitsch, surreal reality of any beach tourism hot spot.

Maz Dixon will be exhibiting at Michael Reid Murrurundi in the coming months.

Create in Japanese style

Club Manga Mania is here again! The Japanese comic workshops are held Sundays monthly with Jade Goodwin. Ideal for 8-14 year olds.

No need to book. Just drop in, it's FREE! All materials will be supplied - you only need to bring yourself! The next workshop will take place on August 13 between 10.30am and 1.30pm at Muswellbrook Regional Arts Centre.

For more information please email Jade at the Arts Centre or call 02 6549 3800.

Loads of fun at The Barn

Ross Ward is teaming up with Sally King and Dave Green for a night of R&B, blues and soul at 'The Barn' in Murrurundi.

Host Fran promises to provide delicious food. Bring your own drinks, chair, and admission by generous donation to help cover costs of food and musicians.

The event will take place on Saturday August 12 at 6pm at Chicken in the Window on Mayne Street, Murrurundi.

To market at Muswellbrook

A huge array of foods, plants and crafts are available at Muswellbrook Markets.

The next event will be held on Sunday August 13 between 8am and 1pm at the Muswellbrook Showground. There will also be a poultry and general auction at 9.30am.

For further details contact Brian on 6543 1141.

Community chest opens more for youth

Providing first-aid, cooking and new tutoring programs will soon feature at the Singleton Youth Venue thanks to financial assistance from the Singleton Diggers Community Chest.

The money will allow for an expansion of the current programs provided at the Youth Venue while assisting to keep participant costs to a minimum.

The Back-to-Basics Cooking life skills program will also run to teach young people basic kitchen skills, meal planning and budgeting.

The Youth Venue provides social and recreational activities for young people between 11 and 17 years of age, open from 9am to 6pm from Tuesday to Friday weekly.

For more information about the Singleton Youth Venue programs and services, call the team on 6571 4687 or visit www.singleton.nsw.gov.au/youthvenue

Safety concerns trigger the removal of barbecues

Three gas barbecues have been removed from Singleton's Townhead Park after a safety audit of the park's assets found they were potentially unsafe.

Recent safety inspections found the barbecues were aged, broken, unrepairable and posed a safety risk. Council says although the removal of the facilities is far from ideal, it will not compromise the safety of our park users. "We are currently working with consultants on the development of the Townhead Park Master Plan which will guide the future uses for the park and take into consideration the replacement of the barbecue facilities and playground equipment."

For more information about the Townhead Park Master Plan, please contact Council on (02) 6578 7290.

Percussion use and abuse

From calling ancient armies to battle to signalling the audience to stand for the National Anthem, drums and percussion have been part of history well over and above musical contributions.

You can learn all about this from renowned expert Nigel Bates when he appears at the Scone Decorative and Fine Arts Society on August 15. Nigel is a percussionist, lecturer and presenter who has worked as a performer for over thirty-five years at London's Royal Opera House.

The lecture will be held at Scone Arts and Crafts Centre at 5.30pm for a 6pm start. For further information contact scone@adf.org.au

Thoroughbred snippets

Colt, I am Invincible took out the top price of $120 000 at this year's Inglis Hunter Valley Breeders' Yearling Sale in May only to have that price shattered on Sunday July 23 when Brilliant Bisc achieved a price of $600 000.

The 2012 Gimcrack stakes winner was bought by Go Bloodstock Australia Pty Ltd at the dispersal sale for Stuart Ramsey's Turangga Farm Stud, Segenhoe Valley, Scone.

The progeny of Noble Park bred Mossman, are still making a mark on the Australian racing scene today. The horse was shifted to Vinery Stud at Scone.

Now 22 Mossman looked after 45 mares last season. Retired from use after the 2006 season, his eighteenth and at that time at the Vinery Stud, Segenhoe Valley, Scone, Success Express supplied 459 winners, 71.1% of his runners, of 1700 races and over $37million. Among 32 stakes winners have been eight successful in Group 1 races.

Two Australian mares provided the highest priced lots at the prestigious Tattersall's July sale in Newmarket, England. Coolmore bred Asanta Sana achieved the top price of 330 000 guineas while Godolphin 5 year old Time Check made 300 000 guineas.

Love your bird

By Dr Katherine Loring

Parrots make wonderful pets and can be our companions for many, many years. But many parrots don't live as long as they should, and a major reason is a poor diet.

Did you know that feeding your feathered friend an all-seed diet can make them sick? Seed you buy from the supermarket or pet store is dried and very high in fat and carbohydrates. A seed-only diet can increase the chance of liver disease, respiratory disease and will probably make them really fat! Seeds like sunflower seeds are very tasty, but have a higher fat percentage than takeaway fries.

Most parrots should be fed a mix of good quality parrot pellet and plenty of fresh vegetables and wild grasses. Did you know that a lot of parrots love chillies? Try offering lots of different vegetables, but stay away from onion, garlic, rhubarb and avocado, as these are toxic.

Feeding a wide variety of foods will keep your bird entertained and healthy. With proper care, even a little cockatiel can live to up to 20 years old! Changing diet can be slow and tricky, especially for older birds. Contact us at Pet Medical for more advice and tips on how to keep your flock happy and healthy.

Spring will soon be in the air

Celebrate spring in Muswellbrook at the St Alban's Spring Fair on August 26.

Market stalls, food, drinks, games will set off the vintage car, quilt, SES, RFS, Police and ambulance displays. Pony rides and the Guides book sale will ensure there's something for everyone.

If you would like to check it out head to St Alban's Anglican Church in Muswellbrook between 9am and 2pm.

See with Fresh Eyes

A horse therapy workshop is coming to Blandford near Murrurundi. You can work with your horse to cultivate a new way of looking at yourself and the systems within which you operate.

The horses support you in rediscovering your innate ability, enabling you to deepen your sensitivity and ability to pay attention to yourself and to others. For you to become present in a way you have not been used to being present. Through their body language the horses give explicit feedback about how they are feeling, unlike people who can shut down and back away internally and you would never know. You will take your experiences learned with the horses into the group for exploration, rediscovering how it feels to be connected. No riding involved. The workshop will take place on Friday August 11 between 9am and 5pm.

Scone Saleyards - state of the art

Upper Hunter Shire Council has welcomed a $2,827,248 million grant towards the Scone Saleyards from the Building Better Regions Fund, announced by Deputy Prime Minister and Member for New England, Barnaby Joyce, on Friday (4 July 2017).

Image: Deputy Mayor Maurice Collison, Mayor Wayne Bedggood, Deputy Prime Minister Barnaby Joyce, and agents Peter Sawyer and Dean Taylor met at the Scone Saleyards earlier this year for a briefing on the major upgrade which has now been funded by the Federal Government.

The funds will go towards completing a $7 million project at the Scone Regional Livestock Selling Centre, with the Upper Hunter Shire Council providing the remainder of funds.

Council's 10 year Development Program and Operations Plan provides for the servicing of a saleyards loan of $4.21 million. This loan is fully serviced from the saleyards operational budget.

Mayor Wayne Bedggood said the project would increase the capacity and efficiency of the saleyards, support local jobs and increase economic activity.

"This will be the biggest upgrade to the saleyards since it was established 45 years ago," he said.

"Council has undertaken planning for this major upgrade over the past two years and with this funding, construction can commence in the 2017/18 financial year.

"The upgrade works will be carried out whilst the yards remain operational, so there will be significant logistical matters to work through for the users of the yards and the construction teams. This will be some short term pain for some major long term gains.

"The innovative design and latest technology that will be implemented as part of the project will not only result in increased throughput, turnover and efficiencies, but will increase the safety and welfare for the cattle and staff working in the facility," Cr Bedggood said.

SINGER-SONGWRITER-MASTERMIND:

Matt Johnston (pictured) of Lower Belford, Singleton has released Magpie Diaries now available on iTunes and Spotify.

Magpie Diaries

The mastermind behind some of the Hunter's best music events including the Gum Ball, PigSty in July, Dashville Skyline and Thrashville also has musical talent of his own.

Matt 'Magpie' Johnston has just released The Magpie Diaries - a dreamy Americana-folk album that has been described as authentic, wrenching, acoustic based songs, with a candid simplistic story-telling approach. Magpie's songs capture shared elements of his life growing up in the bush at Dashville and his time travelling about the wide world, the relationships formed, the experiences in between.

His songs cruise in their approach, with a late 60's Americana groove, yet have a direct emotional thrust that cuts to the core of the Australian spirit.

You can find the Magpie Diaries on iTunes and Spotify.
