Artwork ready for the Merriwa silos

The latest, and last chance, to formally comment on the planned Merriwa silo artwork is here, with the public exhibition of the development application (DA) from 1 August to 22 August 2018.

If the DA is approved the giant artwork should be on the silos by the end of the year.

The artist Sid Tapia and his team first visited Merriwa in September 2017, speaking with locals including school children. Since that consultation, a number of different images have been considered by the Merriwa Tourism and Promotion Committee.

Earlier this year the Merriwa community was asked to vote on their favourite from three possible designs. An image of sheep in red socks in a field with a hut and windmill in the background attracted the largest number of votes, and was chosen by the Committee.

Mayor Wayne Bedggood thanked the Merriwa Tourism and Promotion Committee for their ongoing work and GrainCorp for their agreement to partner in the public art project.

Chair of the Committee Cr Ron Campbell said the silos art will be an attractive and eye-catching marker for Merriwa.

"This will be a great tourist attraction visible from the Golden Highway," he said.

The creation of large public art projects including silo art, was one of the recommendations in Council's Merriwa Town Centre Masterplan based on consultations with the Merriwa community in 2015.

Note: For further comment please contact Cr Ron Campbell, Chair of the Merriwa Tourism and Promotion Committee on 0428 485 153.

The switch to a digital development application process and the popular #singletonstories Facebook campaign highlighting the heroes in the community has seen Singleton Council scoop the pool at the 2018 Local Government Week Awards in Sydney last week.

Singleton Council made it a clean sweep in both categories it entered, taking out the

Singleton basks in success at this year's Local Government Week Awards

Council for Planning Cultural Change for "Going Paperless While Drowning in Paper" and the RH Dougherty Award for Excellence in Communication for #singletonstories, a weekly profile of the amazing people in our community posted to Council's Facebook page each Sunday.

The judges noted the introduction of the IT process and removal of paper files as part of the digital development application lodgement resulted in a more collaborative team environment" and better customer service.

#singletonstories was described as "quirky and amazing", with judges saying "these stories build the fabric of a community and will keep it alive in the future".

Mayor of Singleton, Cr Sue Moore, said it was due recognition for the great ideas and hard work happening in Council that was now proven to be industry-leading.

"But most importantly, the two projects highlighted at last night's presentation are delivering fantastic outcomes for the people in our community," she said.

General Manager Jason Linnane said the accolades were merely icing on the cake.

"We might be a small council, but there's enormous innovation and hard work happening right across our organisation every day to best deliver the important services our community desire and deserve." Jason Linnane said.

Navigating social media for visual artists

Text supplied by Arts Upper Hunter

Well-known Hunter Valley artist Rebecca Rath will be running a workshop on Saturday 1 September for visual artists interested in developing their use of social media. This workshop will be co-hosted by the Murrurundi Arts and Crafts Council and Arts Upper Hunter and held at the Murrurundi Community Technology Centre.

Using social media tools and platforms, visual artists have new ways to connect with audiences and buyers far and wide. And because these websites are free to use, Facebook, Twitter, YouTube and Instagram are quickly becoming as important to an artist as the paintbrush and palette. The workshop will focus on Instagram.

The cost is $20 and attendees should ideally bring along their smartphone, tablet or a laptop that can connect to the internet.

The workshop runs from 12.30pm to 3.30pm. Bookings essential. Artists can book a place by emailing Arts Upper Hunter on rado@artsupperhunter.com.au For more details call 6541 4776.

Grant funding for the Muswellbrook Regional Arts Centre

Muswellbrook Shire Council has been successful in its grant application under the Regional Cultural Infrastructure Fund for a contribution of $135,000. The grant will be put towards the delivery of updated climate control systems that will protect and conserve the significant Max Watters Collection and other works in the care of the Muswellbrook Regional Arts Centre.

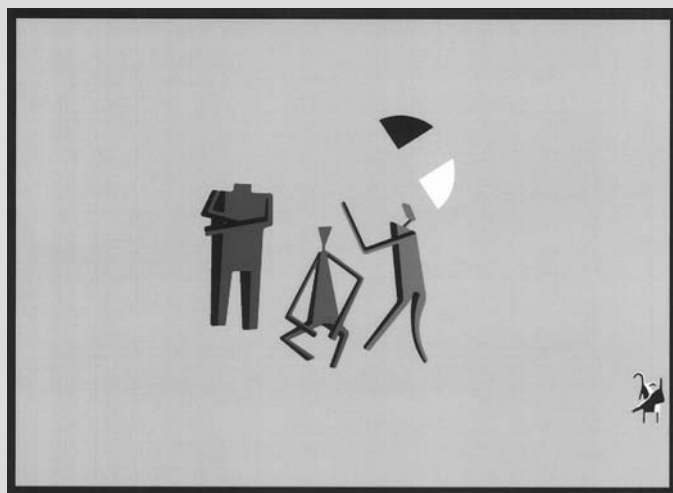

The new air-conditioning system will provide the appropriate humidity and climate control necessary to meet the standards of travelling exhibitions, which often require conditions the Arts Centre has otherwise not been able to provide.

A new LED lighting system will ensure that gallery patrons experience a significant improvement to the viewing of future exhibitions while listening to music through a modern sound system that also accommodates multi-media installations and public events.

In welcoming the funding announcement Mayor of Muswellbrook Martin Rush said: "the installation of these improved services will ensure the Art Centre is able to maintain and conserve the renowned Max Watters and Muswellbrook Shire Collections. With the enhanced conditions the new air-conditioning and lighting provides, more travelling exhibitions would be expected to visit the Muswellbrook Regional Arts Centre and draw more Upper Hunter residents to the facility."

'Three Well Known Australians'

A famous painting now visiting Muswellbrook Regional Art Gallery promises to keep locals guessing. Entitled "Three Well Known Australians" the work by Martin Shaw has been touring Australia since 1983.

It's visited 205 venues and still no-one knows for sure just who the three primary coloured, abstract figures are. Everyone is encouraged to visit the gallery between now and August 26, guess who the Australians are and record it in the yearbook. People all over the world have been guessing, but we may never know just who the elusive figures are.

Over 40 acts will perform live across three days at Dashville Skyline

Following on from the biggest first announcement in the history of the festival, Australia's very own cosmic country weekender, Dashville Skyline, reveals the full list of stellar acts heading to the Hunter Valley this September 28 - 30.

Unfolding over the Labour Day long weekend, the fourth instalment of this magical family-friendly festival will feature three full days of country inspired activity, combined with over 40 live performances, one by one over two stages.

Jumping aboard the laid-back camping festival, that already includes THE WAIFS (only NSW show), C.W. STONEKING (solo), HAT FITZ & CARA and 19-TWENTY, is none other than the legendary folk group THE BUSHWACKERS, a band 48 years young. Described by Rolling Stone as "the Australian band", The Bushwackers have captured the essence of Australiana like few else across our fair land.

WILLIAM CRIGHTON will make his triumphant return to Dashville Skyline. The Hunter Valley-based artist's profile has sky rocketed with sold-out shows around the country, as well as festival spots in Canada, Europe and United States.

Also being welcomed back is the incomparable MELODY POOL to the live stage.

Closure of Wallaby Scrub Road

An extraordinary meeting of Singleton Council was held on Monday 6 August where councillors formally consented to the closure of Wallaby Scrub Road.

The Department of Industries – Lands & Forestry has given approval in principle for the road closure, following a resolution of Council on 28 August 2017 to make the application affecting 5.99km of Wallaby Scrub Road from the intersection of Putty Road.

The approval is conditional that assets owned by Ausgrid within the area of the road are removed prior to closure, and that the land in the former road corridor is sold to the adjoining landholders.

The process to close the road followed State Government approval for the expansion of the Warkworth mine. The adjoining landholders are Warkworth Mining Limited and Miller Pohang Coal Company Pty Ltd.

Anthony Egan, Council's Director Corporate & Community, said the extraordinary meeting was called to ensure the next stage of the process could be completed and allow time for the NSW Land Registry Services to register the survey plans and issue property plans to allow the sale to proceed.

Mr Egan said negotiations were ongoing between Council and the mining company.

"Any proceeds from the sale of the road corridor must be invested in the road network in the Singleton LGA in accordance with Section 43(4) of the Roads Act, 1993," he said.

Art Bazaar to pop up at The Levee

Hunter Arts Network is excited to have Art Bazaar Pop-Up at The Levee returning to Aroma Maitland in 2018.

Art Bazaar Pop-Up will be located in The Levee (the road will be closed), High Street, during Maitland Aroma Coffee and Chocolate Festival which is held in the Riverside Car Park this weekend – August 11 and 12 from 10am – 4pm.

In addition to 25 Hunter Arts Network stallholders on both days, enjoy coffee from the best local coffee roasters, a delectable range of chocolates, local wine from the Hunter region and great street food. The festival will also feature live music performances as well as roving performers, demonstrations, interactive activities and much more.

Economic benefits for John Street

The evolution of John Street as a destination for retail, dining, recreation and specialised services is continuing, with expressions of interest sought for the possible commercial uses and transformation of a landmark site.

Singleton Council has invited expressions of interest for the purchase and redevelopment or lease and redevelopment of the former new car showroom at 189-195 John Street, Singleton, with a view to:

- increasing the site utilisation;
- improving the site appearance;
- creating business opportunities;
- increasing investment in Singleton; and
- attracting more customers to the Town Centre.

The site is opposite Riverside Park, which is under construction on a former car yard and due for completion by the end of the year, and leased to an electrical business. The Expression of Interest process will not affect the terms of the lease currently in place.

Expressions of Interest close on 27 August 2018.

Free no-dig gardening workshops

Upper Hunter Shire Council is offering regular free workshops and resources to help residents live more sustainably. A No-Dig Gardening workshops is being held at Scone Library.

Bookings are essential as previous workshops have filled quickly. We encourage you to bring your children to learn these skills, but they must be accompanied.

No Dig Gardening - Choose 10am to 1pm, OR 1pm to 3pm
Saturday 18 August 2018

Join Mel Cooper from Sustainable Education to learn how to create your own No Dig Garden – a great way to use your compost to create abundance.

No dig gardens can be established anywhere, even on concrete surfaces, and are a quick and effective way to create a productive garden, which is water efficient and full of goodness for your plants. Learn about the materials used to create this layered composting garden system. This is a practical hands-on workshop.

Bookings essential at www.trybooking.com/WYEP

For more information contact 6540 1328.

These workshops are supported by the NSW EPA Waste Less, Recycle More initiative.

Report all dog attacks

Upper Hunter Shire Council is urging residents to report to Council all incidents of dog attacks, menacing dogs and unreasonable barking.

Mayor Wayne Bedggood says council has received a number of anecdotal reports of dog attacks, but can't action unless there's a formal complaint. "If we get an increase in formal reports of unrestrained and threatening dogs in Murrurundi, there will be more Ranger visits," he said. Council is also conducting an audit of declared dangerous dogs which involves inspecting properties and enclosures.

Reports should be made to Council on 6540 1100 during business hours or to the after hours number 6540 1199.

Seniors Expo receives community support

TransCare's Muswellbrook Seniors Expo has received a major boost with support from the Ridgeland Community Fund Community Investment Committee.

The Expo will be held for the second time on the 9th November 2018 after the successful staging of the inaugural event in 2017. The aim of the TransCare Seniors Expo is to bring together local community services and groups for a one-stop-shop which provides information to seniors from the Upper Hunter region. These events are not just for seniors, family members and friends can come along and get information for other members of the community who need it.

The Muswellbrook RSL Club is hosting the event again this year and there has already been strong interest from organisations that attended in 2017 to have another display.

ADRIFT

Rated (M) 96 mins

Adrift is based on true story of two free spirits whose chance encounter leads them first to love, and then to the adventure of a lifetime. As the two avid sailors set out on a journey across the ocean. They couldn't anticipate that they would be sailing directly into one of the most catastrophic hurricanes in recorded history. In the aftermath of the storm, Tami awakens to find Richard badly injured and their boat in ruins. With no hope for rescue, Tami must find the strength and determination to save herself and the only man she has ever loved.

Footy game honours memory of Nathan

This weekend's AFC Nathan Duncan Shield Match will take Weeraman Field at Muswellbrook by storm when the Muswellbrook Cats and Singleton Roosters battle it out in both women and men's competitions on Saturday 11 August.

The football event will no doubt be filled with both a stirring and touching sentiment in memory of Nathan Duncan who is remembered by his mates as wearing his heart on his sleeve for the Cats Club, and will always be held in high regard. An 'Old Boys' day will also be incorporated for what is expected to be an emotional game and get-together for the club.

Discounted beer and a barbeque meal will be on offer to all ex-players and officials. The organisers welcome spectators young and old to come along and support a great day of football in memory of a great young man. The action kicks off at 12pm.

Aberdeen's Simone Easthope is back

Simone Easthope and her partner Benjamin Moser are returning to the Upper Hunter Conservatorium of Music (UHCM) after their successful concert last year. Simone grew up in Aberdeen and went on to graduate from the prestigious Julliard School in New York and the Sydney Conservatorium.

She is currently based in Berlin, Germany and has won numerous awards and scholarships. Ms Easthope's opera roles include Miss Wordsworth in Albert Herring by Benjamin Britten, Therese/Tirésias in Les Mamelles de Tirésias by Poulenc, Angelique in Angelique by Jacques Ibert and Despina in Così fan Tutte. Her partner Benjamin is a world-renowned pianist who was a prizewinner in the 2007 Tchaikovsky competition.

The pair will feature with the Newcastle Youth Orchestra bringing Mozart to the Upper Hunter. Their concert at the Upper Hunter Conservatorium in Muswellbrook on Saturday August 25 will be conducted by a dear friend of the UHCM, Dr Ian Cook.

Tickets: Adults $30; concessions $20 can be pre-purchased from the Upper Hunter Conservatorium of Music. For more information email admin@uhcm.com.au or phone 02 6541 4888.

Community music event

The Upper Hunter Conservatorium of Music (UHCM) has been fortunate to secure a day on Thursday 16 August from 9am – 5pm in the Atherstone Room with Dr. Phil Mullen (pictured) of England as part of a two-week series of sessions that he will be delivering for Regional Conservatoriums across NSW in August.

This opportunity has been provided as part of the UHCM's commitment to sharing international best-practice knowledge, to enhance MitCon's ability to offer the best possible music education to communities.

Phil Mullen got into the music business through punk rock, had a career in rock bands in the 1980's and became a community musician in 1985. He is now one of the world's leading Community Music trainers. He has worked for over thirty years developing music with people who suffer from social exclusion, including homeless people, offenders, through to seniors. Phil also worked for seven years running the Open Ear community orchestra for the London Philharmonic Orchestra. He has run workshops and seminars on community music and creativity in 26 countries across Europe, North America and Asia as well as in South Africa, Australia, and New Zealand.

For enquiries or tickets to this event contact 6541 4888 or visit www.uhcm.com.au
