Upper Hunter dominates country racing awards

Upper Hunter racing captured four of the country honours when the 2017-18 edition of the Racing NSW Country and Provincial Racing Association Award winners were presented on Friday evening September 28 at a dinner held at Sydney's Four Seasons Hotel.

Club of the year winners Muswellbrook Race Club. John Sunderland, Duane Dowell, Jonathon McTaggart and Winning Edge Sponsor Representative.

The Upper Hunter awardees were Muswellbrook Race Club (Country TAB Race Club of the Year), The Monstar (Country Horse of the Year), Brett Cavanough (Country Trainer of The Year) and, posthumously, Noel Leckie (Simon Nivison Special Achievement).

It was the second time that Muswellbrook, a club with a busy racing schedule whose meetings consistently attract representatives from provincial and metropolitan stables currently directed by a live wire committee headed by John Sunderland (manager of Godolphin's Woodland's stud) and a quality management team under Duane Dowell (general manager) have earned the award.

They had claimed the title in 2013, a year in which the Club's chief executive was one of the most experienced and respected country racing managers, Helen Sinclair. She has since moved to the mid north coast and is managing the Manning River Race club at Taree.

Now winner of 12 of 51 starts, the Country Horse of the Year The Monstar contested nine races as a 7-year-old in 2017-18, appearing in NSW, Queensland and Victoria. The efforts included a win the Moreton Cup-G2 (1200m) at the Sunshine Coast, thirds in the Linlithgow-G2 at Flemington and in the Missile-G2 at Randwick and fourth in two other stakes at the latter course.

Bred by Baerami Thoroughbreds west Hunter Valley using their since deceased Danehill sire California Dane and Sirocco Miss, a daughter of Widden Stud shuttled Brocco (USA), The Monstar was one of the performers who earned her trainer and part owner Brett Cavanough the Trainer of the Year Award.

Formerly a leading trainer based near Albury, Cavanough moved to Scone in early 2017 and now trains out of the stable block formerly housing Greg Bennett at the Scone racing centre.

A former dynamic leader of the Scone Race Club was local accountant Noel Leckie, a man whose services to the industry were recognised by this year's Simon Nivison Special Achievement Award. Noel Leckie was only 64 when he died in January 2017.

The other 2018 Country Awards went to Narrandera Race Club (Community Race Club of the Year), Shoalhaven City Turf Club (Nowra) (Outstanding Achievement Award), Coonamble Jockey Club (Outstanding Achievement Award), Ben Looker, Southgate Grafton (Country Jockey of the Year), Cejay Graham, Port Macquarie (Country Apprentice of the Year) and Ricky Blewitt, Narromine (Country Approved Rider of the Year).

The Provincial Racing Awards went to Brian Judd, the General Manager of NSW Country Racing (Ted McCabe Provincial Recognition), In Her Time (2012, by the Redoute's Choice sire Time Thief) (Provincial Horse of the Year), Godolphin's James Cummings (Provincial Trainer of the Year), Brenton Avdulla (Provincial Jockey of the Year) and Jean Van Overmeire, Warwick Farm (Provincial Apprentice Jockey of Year).

Highly fancied for the Everest, In Her Time was bred on Fred and Mary Moses's Kanangra Park Stud near Scone.

Beekeepers' Field Day Tocal College

Tocal College will host the 39th annual Tocal Beekeepers' Field Day on Saturday 13th October between 9am and 4pm.

The field day is free to attend and participants will enjoy presentations by beekeeping industry experts and researchers on bee biosecurity, apiary sites, queen bee breeding, beeswax, flow hive developments, native bee pollination, inspecting hives for pests and diseases, native beekeeping, and honey bee STDs (sexually transmitted diseases).

There is an industry trade show running throughout the day with over 20 stalls selling every piece of beekeeping equipment imaginable. For the 'newbees' in the crowd there will be plenty of practical demonstrations to feel the buzz of bees as hives are opened, bee brood inspected for disease, queen bees spotted, honey tastings, beehive construction, wax wraps and candle making, and a native stingless bee hive split.

This event is the longest running Beekeepers' Field Day in Australia and one of the largest in NSW. It is jointly coordinated by the Hunter branches of the NSW Amateur Beekeepers' Association and the NSW Apiarists' Association with support from NSW Department of Primary Industries and Tocal College.

Community night of entertainment to support drought-affected farmers

The skies may not be so forthcoming, but there's a deluge of support as the community comes together for an event to support people doing it tough in the drought.

Hunter Valley Operations has partnered with Singleton Council to host Pass the Hat, a night of live music, good food and good old-fashioned entertainment on Saturday 27 October 2018 from 6pm to 10pm.

Local businesses have also come on board to sponsor a hay bale on the night.

All proceeds will be passed on to Rural Aid, to be distributed to the farmers who need it most.

Mayor of Singleton, Cr Sue Moore said the format for the event would be similar to the successful Firelight held in April this year, with a live band, food trucks and the best in Hunter Valley cheeses and wines on offer on the Civic Green.

"Live music will come from VenderAa Band, which brings a range of different instruments such as didgeridoos, drum jams and a djembe (African drum) to perform a mix of original songs and covers so there's something for everyone," she said.

"It will be a great night for people of all ages to come out and enjoy a picnic on the lawn and take advantage of the great food from food trucks on the night along with Hunter Valley wines.

"The idea is to bring people together for a great night of fun and entertainment to demonstrate the support in our community for people affected by the drought, and I'm looking forward to seeing a big crowd."

There will also be an opportunity for people to access support and assistance on the night, with representatives on hand from Rural Aid, Rural Resilience Program, Salvation Army and Local Land Services.

For more information please contact: Briony O'Hara on 6578 7214 or bohara@singleton.nsw.gov.au

Koala Pre-School

Nakia the koala joey stole the hearts of keepers at The Australian Reptile Park during June when staff had to rush to her aid when her mother was unable to produce milk. The 280g, 6 month old joey was named Nakia (Meaning, hope) would surely have died if keepers had not intervened.

Fast-forward some months and now 10 month old Nakia no longer needs milk and is able to eat a diet solely made up of eucalyptus leaves, she is now ready to be introduced to other koala joeys her age in a koala pre-school at The Australian Reptile Park.

During Nakia's infancy, koala expert Hayley Shute (A.K.A the koala whisperer) came to the rescue by becoming Nakia's surrogate mum. Hayley has worked with koalas for over 15 years and was most certainly koala-fied for the job.

Hayley Shute commented on sending little Nakia off to cohabitate with the other koala joeys "It was a bittersweet moment but it is so good to see that Nakia is ready for this next big step! She is already bonding with the other joeys and having fun in her new surroundings. Although I hope she'll still come down from the trees for a cuddle every now and then!"

Looking after Nakia in the initial stages of her rescue involved feeding her specially formulated milk every 5 hours including a feed at 2am every night and ensuring she is in sight of Hayley at all times as koala joeys stress if they are not within view of their mother.

The Australian Reptile Park has had a record breaking year for koala joeys, with 11 of the species born into the breeding program in 2018. Nakia is a part of this breeding project to help save the species and she can now be seen cuddling with other joey koalas in the koala crèche.

Dashville, a success

The team from Dashville Skyline could not have been happier with the results from the festival over the Labour Day long weekend.

The artists who played from all parts of Australia bought their 'A' game to the site at Lower Belford over three days and nights and the mix of music derived from Roots, Folk, Americana, Alt Country, Blues and all things in between provided a heady combination. The weather was stunning, headline act The Waifs who came together to play their only NSW show were supreme, delivering a world class show cementing their reputation as one of Australia's finest roots bands with a career spanning 25 years.

The crowd had swelled by the final day and almost doubled in size from previous years confirming the success of the festival and the momentum built over four years. The formula of high quality music, a family friendly atmosphere and terrific community spirit makes a perfect mix for a music festival and a weekend getaway!

A night of Scottish folk music

The Upper Hunter Conservatorium will be hosting an evening of Scottish Folk Music by Alan Reid and Rob Van Sante on Tuesday 16 October at 7pm.

Alan (vocals, piano, accordion, guitar) and Rob (vocals, guitar) perform modern and traditional folk. Alan recorded almost 30 albums with world renowned Battlefield Band. Alan's songs have been a feature of the band's repertoire since the early 80's and are noted for their story telling element, lyricism and strong melody. In 1998 his first solo album 'The Sunlit Eye' featuring new songs and tunes was released followed by his song and tune book 'Martyrs, Rogues and Worthies' in 2001. His songs have been an integral component for the band and for the two well received albums with Rob. Alan was a 2009 Scots Tradition Award nominee in the composer section.

Rob is a highly respected tasteful guitarist and a fine singer. He has lent his ears to the Battlefield Band for the past 13 years as their sound engineer for both live and recorded work. He continues to accompany them on all their tours as their 'fifth' member and when not on the road, Rob can be found at work in his recording studio in his adopted home town of Leeds, recording and producing albums for local, national and international musicians. He has a wealth of experience playing for over 30 years with various luminaries in the English folk scene and more recently with Alan. The duo combine fine harmony singing with sensitive and imaginative accompaniments, the very highest quality in contemporary folk.

Mosaïque now open in Scone

Mosaïque is a newly opened BYO restaurant at 108 Liverpool Street Scone, right next door to Pet Medical.

Clare Norvill, proprietor, has always had an affinity with the flavours and cooking styles from around the world and when, out of the blue, this opportunity arose she jumped in without a second thought. Clare's idea was for a melting pot of tastes and textures and so the name Mosaïque was born with decor following. "The menu has evolved since opening. We've been eagerly assessing feedback and the plan is to come up with a final seasonal menu based on our customers favourites with a few specials here and there," Clare said.

Open for dinner Thursday to Saturday nights and lazy al fresco Sunday lunches, Mosaïque also has a private dining room which seats 12-14, already a favourite room, that can be booked ahead for birthday dinners and Christmas parties.

To book your table call 6535 3932 or visit Mosaïque Scones instagram or facebook page.

LADIES IN BLACK

Rated (PG) 109 mins

Ladies in Black is set in Sydney in the summer of 1959, against the backdrop of Australia's cultural awakening, breakdown of class structures, and liberation of women. It tells the coming-of-age story of suburban schoolgirl Lisa, who while waiting for her final high school exam results with dreams of going to the University of Sydney, takes a summer job at a large department store. Here she works side-by-side with a group of saleswomen who open her eyes to a world beyond her sheltered existence, and foster her metamorphosis.
